

2024 CDRH Wellness Symposium: Fostering Connections Opening Remarks and Keynote Address on Intergenerational Connections

Whether you're registered for in-person attendance at the June 4 Wellness Symposium or not, you can join us for a welcome message from CDRH Center Director Jeff Shuren and Senior Leadership, followed by a keynote address from Jeff Vargas, president, and CEO of Generationology LLC, on intergenerational connections in the workplace. Learn how to enhance, expand, and leverage individual skills to unleash the full potential of teams.

How to participate:

- Did you register before the deadline and plan to be in-person for the CDRH Wellness Symposium? This is one part of your full day of activities at the White Oak campus. Join us for the opening remarks and keynote address in the Building 66 Atrium and access the full Symposium itinerary to plan the rest of your day.
- Not registered for the CDRH Wellness Symposium? Registration is closed. However, you are invited to join the opening remarks and the Keynote Address virtually on the day of the event using this link.
